About The Event

University Roundtables are a national thought leadership series designed in response to the increasing need to address student success in higher education.

On Monday, November 25th, Mentor Collective will convene a diverse group of key leaders from the New England area for a panel discussion followed by solutions-oriented breakout sessions. We will discuss questions and strategies including, current institutional barriers that exist to support student success, how to increase belonging for all students, how to advocate for more resources, and how to navigate university administrative structures. We will hear about each of the panelists' experiences and work at their university to support student success.

We hope that you will be able to join us for this important gathering. Your perspective will be essential.

Windows taskbar: Search bar, taskbar icons (Edge, File Explorer, Mail, Outlook, Word, PowerPoint, Chrome), system tray (4:22 PM, 1/13/2020, 23 notifications).

WHO: Graduates of the AIMS² Program

WHAT: Return to CSUN for your Teaching Credential

WHY: We have ten scholarships ($8,000 each); We are responding to a need to prepare more E in STEM teachers!

WHEN: Start January 2020, complete in 2 or 3 semesters

- We seek AIMS² graduates with a bachelor's degree who understand the power of mentoring, coaching and teaching students in elementary, middle and high schools.
- We offer a two-or three-semester pathway to acquiring the California Math/Science or Multiple Subject Credential and will provide scholarship funding to AIMS² candidates for the first-two semesters.
- Our credential programs, including student teaching placements, prepare you for teaching grade levels K-5 and/or 6-12.

Contact Dr. Susan Belgrad susan.belgrad@csun.edu for more information about applying to the program and the $8,000 scholarship:

Apply to this link for K-5 Multiple Subject <https://www.csun.edu/eisner-education/credential-office/preliminary-multiple-subject-program-application>

Apply to this link for Single Subject Math/Science <https://www.csun.edu/eisner-education/credential-office/preliminary-single-subject-program-application>

Engineering graduates entering this program will also:

- Enjoy guided tours of the NASA Jet Propulsion Laboratory, the Discovery Cube Los Angeles (DCLA), and the LA Clean Tech Incubator (LACI)
- Serve as robotics club engineers with mentor teachers who lead robotics clubs throughout the Los Angeles area
- Participate in the Annual CSUN Rally in the Valley and STEAM Exposition in May
